

Who will build the North West Rail link?

-an EcoTransit community forum-

In the lead up to the state election, EcoTransit Sydney is hosting a community forum at which Liberal, Labor and Greens transport spokespeople will explain their policies on expanding rail services in North West Sydney, and in particular on delivering the long promised North West Rail Link (NWRL).

Here's your chance to hear and have a say about what's being promised for your community.

Invited speakers include:
Gladys Berejiklian (Liberal)
John Robertson (Labor)
Cate Faehrmann (Greens)

Chaired by Andrew West,
Senior Reporter for the Sydney Morning Herald.

Sunday 6 March 2011, 7pm
